Statements of authority for understanding the Kingdom of Heaven (cont.)

We, as Christians, are not conformed to the laws of this God-hostile world nor are we its friends. Rom. 12,2; 1Jn. 2,15

The prophet Daniel foretold that we would have to resist the anti-Christ, his co-conspirators and their seductive flattery. Dan.11,32; Mt. 24,4-35

A few rebels and tyrants in key positions of Church and State have spoiled the whole world. They are not to be followed nor supported. Jn. 10,5; 1Cor. 5,7; Gal. 5,9

We don't subscribe to any combination of God-hostile people, their things nor their authority, rather we separate from all the above. 2Cor. 6,17+18; and 7,1

We flee from evil, God-hostile combinations and we don't look back. Gen. 19,17+26; Lk. 17,32

Any combinations that offend Heaven we separate from them, no matter what the cost. Mt. 5,29; Mk.9,47

We make no alliances, formal agreements, partnerships nor ally ourselves with God's enemies nor their nations. Ex. 23,32; 2Cor. 6,14+15

Christians place themselves and all that they hold under Jesus' most sublime Headship. Eph. 1,10; 2Cor. 10,4+5

All nations are being commandeered by God's enemies and, unfortunately, i know of no exceptions. From such, Christians must separate or share their doom. 1Jn.5,19; Rev. 18,4+23

God's Holy Spirit gives us the strength necessary to resist during this most evil era in human history, in our struggle against the evil princes of this world who are devoid of God's light. Eph. 6,12; Phil. 1,29

God reveals awesome mysteries of his Kingdom. Jer. 33,3; Mt. 13,11

The most important mystery is to know that the Kingdom of Heaven is made up of children and people who are like them, defined narrowly. Mk. 10,14+15

Whatever belongs to the Caesars of this world (God's rivals) we give it back to them, which we have done, and to God the same, which we have also done. Mt. 22,21; Mk. 12,17; Lk. 20,25

There are many Christians who deny our sole Sovereign and Lord – Jesus, and, what's worse, they have given the Lordship of their life to his eliminators. Jude verse 4

Any authority that has not been established in Heaven will be vacated unceremoniously. Mt. 15,13

Blessed are they who trust in the Lord. Ps. 84,12
